Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election of Group I, claims 1-3, in Paper No. 3 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Accordingly, claims 4-7 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

page 1, line 30, the word "pyrolize" should be amended to the word -- pyrolyze --.

page 6, line 6, it is unclear what is meant by "9,750 x 4.875 inches".

Appropriate correction is required.

The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Art Unit: 1741

Claim Objections

Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities:

Claim 1

line 3, it is suggested that the word -- and -- be inserted after the word "chamber,".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1

line 5, "the carbon" lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Steinwandel et al. (US Patent No. 5,397,555).

Steinwandel teaches a method of treating a gas stream containing an oxidant and carbon particles comprising the steps of:

- (a) introducing the gas stream (= exhaust gas) into a processing chamber (Fig. 5); and
- (b) exposing the gas stream to microwave energy having a sufficient power and for a sufficient period of time to induce the carbon particles to react with the oxidant (= combust) [col. 9, claim 1].

The microwave energy is provided at a frequency of 2.46 GHz (= between 500 MHz and 30 GHz) [col. 9, claim 2].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Steinwandel et al. (US Patent No. 5,397,555) as applied to claims 1 and 3 above.

Steinwandel is as applied above and incorporated herein.

Steinwandel does not teach wherein the oxidant is selected from the group consisting of steam and carbon dioxide.

However, the invention as a whole would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made because one skilled in the art would have been motivated to have modified the method of Steinwandel with wherein the oxidant is selected from the group consisting of steam and carbon dioxide because steam and carbon dioxide are conventional oxidants. It appears that using steam or carbon dioxide in place of air would have been functionally equivalent and would not have affected the overall process of Steinwandel since combustion would still have taken place using those oxidants, absent evidence to the contrary. See MPEP 2143.02.
